Have you engaged in the practice of law since your suspension for CLE noncompliance?    Yes    No

If yes, please explain:

Rule 8-108. Reinstatement

An active member suspended under the provisions of these rules may be reinstated by the Court upon motion of the Commission and upon a showing that the delinquency has been corrected and payment to the Commission of a reinstatement fee fixed by the Commission.

Regulation

(1) Reinstatement Fee. The reinstatement fee is $500 for a member's first reinstatement, $1,000 for a second reinstatement by the same member, and $2,000 for all subsequent reinstatements by the same member. This fee must accompany the reinstatement motion. It shall not be waived and is non-refundable if reinstatement is not granted.

(2) Policy. Reinstatement will be granted only upon a showing that the member has attended sufficient approved CLE activities to make-up the deficiencies causing the suspension and all deficiencies in subsequent compliance periods. Also, the member's progress toward meeting CLE requirements in the compliance period in which the reinstatement is requested will be included as information in the CCLC's motion to the Supreme Court.

(3) Motion. The motion by the CCLC for reinstatement shall include confirmation of CLE compliance, a statement that the Unlicensed Practice of Law department has had no complaints of the lawyer practicing law while suspended, and that all attendance and reinstatement fees have been paid.

(4) CCLC Action. If the suspended member is found to be in compliance, but was suspended due to an error, the CCLC will file a motion with the Supreme Court of Georgia setting forth the facts supporting CLE compliance, along with its recommendation that the Court rescind the suspension of the member. The Supreme Court will make the final decision on rescission and reinstatement.
